SHE JUMPED TO SAVE HER LIFE.

from a front window of the third-story of a burn-ing dwelling. No. 68 South Orange-ave., Newark, yesterday morning, and was terribly injured. Both of her legs were broken, her spine was injured, and she was fearfully bruised. Her husband, George Paff, lowered himself to a second-story window opening on the rear yard, and held on with his fingers until rescued by a policeman. Mrs. Paff vas sent to the German Hospital.

The fire was discovered at 4:29 o'clock, and in a The fire was discovered at 4.29 o'clock, and in a minute the upper floor of Joseph Michaels's house. No. 65 South Orange-ave., was blazing. No. 65 was soon on fire. Both houses were three-story frame dwellings, and Michaels kept a liquor-store and hall on the first floor of No. 65. All the tenants escaped except Mrs. Paff, who may die. The total loss on buildings and furniture is $5.000. The buildings are badly damaged. Mrs. Paff and her husband could have escaped by the stairs if they had not lost their heads.

A club of literary men has recently been organized a Newark, and will hold its first regular meeting secember 20. It already has a membership of bout 100 of the well-known men of the city, and is proposed to hold its meetings at frequent itervals in the course of the winter. Professor t. C. Mathews, of the High School, is the organizer the club, and is hopeful of its permanent success.

JERSEY CITY.

The bonds for the erection of the new city hall in Jersey City were yesterday sold by the Hoard of Finance to Blair & Co. No. 33 Wall-st., New-York, who took the entire block of $550,000 at 102.32. The bonds are payable in equal instalments from 1913 to 1923, in gold, and bear 5 per cent interest.

ELIZABETH.

Captain James H. Corey, the hotel and turt man who represented the New-Jersey Jockey Club at Elizabeth and kept the Monmouth Park Hotel last summer, was a defendant in the Elizabeth District Court yesterday, being sued for $300 damages by his late partner in the real estate business, Sylvester Court yesterday, being such for see dualness, Sylvester late partner in the real estate business, Sylvester I, Klernan. The two men quarrelled, and the Captain, so it was alleged, threatened to toss his diminutive partner out of the window and did actually lock him out of the office, besides setting part of his furniture into the bail. Captain Corey, in defence, said his partner used to bring beer into the folice and hold carousals there. The plaintiff admitted the beer-drinking, but charged the Captain with taking "a hand" in it and also sending out for some bottles occasionally. James Steen, of Eatontown, "Pete" DeLacy's friend and legal adviser in the fight against the Jockey Club, to the astonishment of everybody, appeared as Captain Corey's counsel in the case, while Mr. Klernan's brother, a young lawyer, conducted the trial for him. Judge Henry, of Newark, presided. The jury gave a verdict of 100 for the plaintiff.

Daniel H. Noe, one of the oldest and best-known residents of Elizabeth, died yesterday at his home, No. 21 Elm-st., in that city. He was eighty years old. He served in the New-Jersey Legislature from Essex County in 1854, and was a strong Democrat. Mr. Noe was one of the principal wheelwrights in Elizabeth for many years. He is survived by a son, Louis H. Noe, who is a lawyer and partner of Judge Joseph Cross.

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

JUSTICE PETTERSON HIS OWN FIREMAN. Justice Petterson, of the Second District Civil 08 Vernon-ave., yesterday morning. He awoke about 1 o'clock and got out of bed to get a glass about 1 o'clock and got out or bed to get a glass of water. The room was dark and he lighted a match to see his way. He threw the match on the floor, and, returning to bed, was soon asleep. The Judge had not been in bed long when he was awakened by the presence of smoke. On looking about, he found the curtains at the window in a blaze, and the carpet on fire. Instead of arousing the other occupants of the house, the Judge put out the flames with his hands, which were badly burned.

A FINE COMMISSION THIS!

NO WONDER THAT WINSLOW S. PIERCE GRANTS

THE MANHATTAN COMPANY FAVORS. There is much unfavorable comment upon the secrecy and swiftness with which the Manhattan

Railway Company secured the right it claims to hold for the construction of a third track in Ninth-ave. These rights are derived from a Rapid Transit Commission created by the laws of 1967, but the nmission took action in this particular case as commission took action in this particular case as last Monday. None of the Commissioners qualified until this year. Maughan Carter took the oath of office before Judge Bischoff, in the Court of Common Pl as, on January 21, 1823. Sotherland Tenney qualified on February 5, 1893, and Winslow S. Pierce, the third Commissioner, although appointed in December, 1841, did not qualify until November 23, 1833.

It is considered significant that Mr. Pierce, one of the Commissioners who have granted the Manhattan Company the authority under which it now attempts to be independent of the city in the matter of constructing a third track in Nintaeve, is a member of ex-Judge John F. Dillon's law firm, who have offices in the Western Union Telegraph Company's building. Mr. Fierce himself has done consilerable legal work for the Gould interests. Judge Dillon has been counsel for the Missouri Pacific, the Wabash, the Union Pacific and other railroads controlled by the Gould-Sage combination. He drew up the papers for the Luion Pacific, in which Messrs, Gould and Sage have been largely interested. The Dillon firm is recognized as the particular legal representatives of the Goulds, and Mr. Pierce is believed to be in thorough symmethy with Mr. Gould's plans.

THE MARKING OF IMPORTED GOODS.

n important ruling of the Treasury Department was received at the Custom House yesterday regarding the marking of imported goods. The McKinley administrative act required that all imports should be stamped with the name of the country of origin. This section of the law was encountry of origin. This section of the law was enacted to identify the cheap German made cutlery which came into direct competition with a better class of goods manufactured in this country. A great deal of trouble was caused to importers of articles coming from well-known foreign cities, on account of the original decision of the Treasury Department. Goods marked "Paris" had to be remarked "France." Wines from Rheims and Bordeaux also had to be remarked "France." Articles coming from Berlin, Elirmingham, Manchester, Sheffield, Glasgow and other well-known European cities had to be remarked. The decision of the Treasury Department leaves it with the Collector to determine for himself whether or not the stamping of the goods identifies the country of manufacture sufficiently. The decision was brought about over the protest of Lanman & Kemp on an invoice of 10,000 bottles of quinine.

The Special Sessions court calendar yesterday contion of the Excise law, many of them dating back to 1886 and 1887. All of them had been pigeon-holed in the District Attorney's office, but as Mr. Nicoli is just now busily engaged in house-cleaning, pre-

The eleventh annual dinner of the Society of Medical Jurisprudence will be given at the Hoffman House at 6:30 p. m. to-morrow. The teasts will be responded to by Judge Noah Davis, Fiavel McGee, Dr. William A. Hammond, Joseph D. Bedle, Au-gustus Thomas, the Rev. Dr. Nelson A. Macnichol, Everett P. Wheeler, Starr J. Murphy, John H. Reid and Winston H. Hagen.

A number of oil paintings, which were part of a collection belonging to H. H. Lamport, were sold at auction last night at the Fifth Avenue Art Galleries. The rest will be offered for sale to-night. Schenck's "Sheep in a Snowstorm" brought the highest price, which was $285. The sixty-eight paintings brought $4,214.

SEEKING A BETTER MOTIVE POWER

THE METROPOLITAN TRACTION COMPANY OFFERS

TROLLEY, OR BETTER THAN IT. The Metropolitan Traction Company sent a letter for New-York to the Board of Railroad Commissioners on No-vember 29 calling attention to the inadequacy of street railroad transportation in this city, and asking the co-operation of the board "in an endeavor to effect an improvement which shall be advantageous and satisfactory" both to the public and the company. The letter said that no additional overhead or underground system could be built and put in operation in less than five years, and that the only method of immediate relief would be the substitution of a more efficient motive was supposed to have poisoned herself at the Bos- and the company. The letter said that no addiwould be the substitution of a more efficient motive power for surface railroads. It was in favor of power for surface railroads. It was in favor of some motive power other than the trolley system, and offered to set aside $50,000 as a prize for any person who should before March 1, 1894, submit to the board an actual system superior or equal to the trolley. The company wanted the board to decide the merits of the devices submitted, and would pay any expense it might incur.

The board replied, on December II, that while it would cheerfully co-operate with the company in every practicable way, it could not undertake to bestow the prize.

THE COMMITTEE'S BLOCKADE BROKEN. From The Washington Post.

From The Washington Post.

All this time the committee sat behind closed doors and were impervious to cards. The messenger at the door would take none in. He had his instructions and lived up to them. But while the group of correspondents cooled their heels outside in company with a few interested tariff experts a lady of imperious mien swept up and handed the doorkeeper her card.

"Take that in to my husband," she exclaimed, "The doorkeeper hestatted, caught her eye, and disappeared without a word. In a moment the lady's husband emerged.

"John," she said, "fild you take those pills?"

"Yes, my dear," was his meek response.

"All right, Now you must take one of these powders," and she handed him a little paper package. He took it, resentered the committee-room, swallowed the potion, and then business was resumed.
